6:00 Presentation by Steve Freers:

The San Luis Rey Style: New Perspectives, Imagery, and Connections

Our understanding of the San Luis Rey Style continues to evolve, facilitated in large measure by the relatively recent applications of digital technology. The focus of this presentation will be to demonstrate regional and perhaps cultural variations in the style, elucidate stature and gender findings from the analysis of hand prints, and share rarely seen pictograph examples of the style. It is hoped that the information provided will significantly expand the audience members' understanding and appreciation of this once vigorous pictograph tradition in southern California.
